EDUCATIONAL ESSENTIALS

And Non-Essentials Aptly Elucidated by Prof. Brimhall in Lecture to Teachers.

Many June Weddings-Court Notes-The Shooting at Henry's Fork, Wyoming, of Local Interest.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, June 12 .- Professor George H. Brimball delivered his second lecture before the students of the Summer school, last evening, taking for his subject "Essentials and Non-Essentials in Education." The following are some of the points, which were all made clear by apt illustrations. The students were all highly interested, and several questions were asked and opinions expressed, tending to further elucidate the questions under consideration;

EDUCATIONAL ESSENTIALS.

Enjoyment is the great essential in education, this does not mean ease or amusement, the highest form of educational enjoyment is the feeling of intellectual vigor, plus execution. Earnestness, an essential; excitement, a non-essential. Accuracy-An accurate idea is worth more than a number of inaccurate ideas. The accurate ideas go into the social and intellectual structure of a man's life, while inaccurate ideas go into the rubbish heap as does a brick without corners. Skill, or ease of activity; better teach the pupil to do one thing skilfully than a number of things unskilfully. Essentials in the curriculum-Reading: Skillful interpretation of written symbols, increase of written or eye vocabulary and ear vocabulary; cumulation of ideas. Writing: Legibility and rapidity; non-essentials, size, Arithemetic: Clear ideas of magnitude and relations; measuring one thing by another. Language: (1) Clear mind content, (2) clear expression of mind content, (3) correct expression of mind content. Any special system of diagraming is non-essential, Geog-raphy: Form ideas, direction ideas, ideas of conditions; ability to see the remote through the immediate. Nature work: Creating or forming of the habit

Abraham Jones has been appointed deputy county game warden, to serve without pay. Fred Evans of Benjamin has been appointed bee inspector for the county at $2 per day for time of actual service; bond $500.

In the case of McBride & Barnes vs the Western Moline Plow company, a suit for $31.10, heard by Justice Anderson last week and taken under advise-ment, a decision was rendered yesterday in favor of plaintiffs. THE SHOOTING AT HENRY'S FORK

Considerable local interest exists in the trouble between cattlemen and sheepmen at Henry's Fork, Wyoming, which led to the shooting of two sheep-herders Thursday, as the press reports states that a Mr. Bullock, and a Mr. Whipple had notified the sheepmen to leave some time previous to the shooting. Mr. Isaac Bullock, of this city, has a cattle ranch there, and the supposi-tion is that he is the Bullock referred to in the dispatches. He is known as a peaceable, law-abiding citizen, and none of his friends believe that he was of the party who did the shooting or that he countenanced the act. Nothing definite is known here of the unfortu-nate affair, but one of Mr. Bullock's relatives informs the "News" correspondent that Mr. Bullock and Mr. Whipple, another cattleman, had been asked by the cattlemen to interview the owners of the sheep, which were en croaching on the cattle ranges, for the purpose of inducing them to move their flocks away. They did so and an amicable arrangement was made, the sheep men promising to move. This is all that is known here, outside of the newspaper reports, and the theory is that the sheep men did not move soon enough to suit some of the more reckless and hot headed cattlemen, and that they made the murderous attack on the herders. Special Correspondence. Payson, Utah County, June 11 .-- Last night as MacDonald's circus was coming to town about midnight, an accident occurred in which the watchman of the circus lost his life. As the train was nearing the bridge just south of the city, the watchman began climbing over the top of the circus wagons on the train when the brakeman cautioned him about falling off; the watchman answering that he was an old hand at the business and went on making his way from the rear to the front, as it was his time for sleeping no one suspected anything wrong, thinking he was asleep, until this morning's early train found a mangled body just north of the bridge, and brought it to the station, where it was placed in Under-

Preston, Oneida, Idaho, June 9 .- On the 4th inst. the frost visited this part of the country and did considerable damage to gardens. Crops, however, are looking well as a rule thoughout the country.

The Oneida Stake conference wes held in the church academy at Preston, Ida-ho, Sunday and Monday, There were present Apostles George Teasdale and M. W. Merrill, Pres. Wm. C. Parkinson, of the Hyrum Stake, the Oneida Stake Presidency, and a large number of lo-cal authorities. Although two other stakes have been taken from Oneida Stake within the past two years, the large assembly hall of the academy was still too small to seat all the people who attended, and as far as numbers go, a stranger would not believe that this was only one-third of the old stake. They say that Zion is growing, but one must travel among these stakes of Zion a few years to see how rapid is this growth. The Sunday school held the Sunday morning service, and the hundreds of beautiful, well dressed children was as pretty a picture as can be seen any-where.
